60th ANNUAL STUDENT INVITATIONAL

SUNDAY | MARCH 15, 2020

ON DISPLAY MARCH 7-28, 2020
Longview Museum of Fine Arts welcomes you to the 60th Annual Student Invitational!

This exhibition gives students an opportunity to display their artwork within the gallery and compete for top honors and prize money. Two hundred and seventy-nine from fourteen schools from the surrounding areas have entered pieces in a variety of categories including: computer graphics, drawing – black & white, drawing – color, painting, photography, pottery, print making and sculpture. Winners from each category will receive a ribbon and a cash award.

Emily Young Feazel, Designer of Exhibits and Special Events at the R.W. Norton Art Gallery is this year’s judge for the invitational. Feazel, holds a degree from Louisiana State University-Shreveport with a double major in Art History and Studio Art. She is a retired ballet dancer and now serves on the board for the Shreveport Metropolitan Ballet. She is an avid supporter of the arts as well as a loving mother and wife.

Emily Young Feazel serves as the Designer of Exhibits and Special Events at the R.W. Norton Art Gallery in Shreveport, Louisiana. Mrs. Feazel joined the museum in 2011 as a college intern and became a full-time staff member in 2012. Ms. Feazel is is a jack-of-all-trades. As the Norton’s Designer of Exhibits and Special Events she curates and produces traveling and solo artist exhibitions as well as free or low-cost public programs that invite visitors to engage with the Norton’s special exhibitions, collections, and botanical gardens in new and unexpected ways. Over the years she has organized many exhibitions at the Norton including solo shows by colorful art darling, Ashley Longshore, famed New Orleans artist James Michalopoulos, and honored photographer and Cowgirl Hall of Fame member Laura Wilson. She has also designed exhibits created from the Nortons permanent collection including Down the Rabbit Hole: Alice Visits the Norton, Botanical Bounty, Scarlett Passions: Bellocq’s Storyville, and #HashtaggingHistory.

Mrs. Feazel holds a degree from Louisiana State University-Shreveport with a double major in Art History and Studio Art. She is a retired ballet dancer and now serves on the board for the Shreveport Metropolitan Ballet. She is an avid supporter of the arts as well as a loving mother and wife.
